

GOING SKIN-DEEP

Following the launch of EvaGarden and SpaRitual in Muscat, Salam Stores is hosting a free beauty event on December 8 and 9 for customers to try before they buy

Emma Abdulaal
theweek@apexmedia.co.om

Isabel de Guio and Daisy Sabbagh Helou

After researching and sourcing products for their upcoming beauty salon that is due to open next year, Isabel de Guio and Daisy Sabbagh Helou decided that making the public wait to have access to these great items was something they just couldn't do. So while they wait for Dashing Nails & Beauty Lounge to be completed, the two have begun distributing products from the Italian makeup range EvaGarden and US beauty range SpaRitual through Salam Stores in Qurum and hope to encourage other spas, salons and makeup artists to take up the products.

When it comes to SpaRitual, Daisy said, "All women like to feel beautiful, but when you look at many of the products on the market, they are harmful with lots of chemicals that aren't good for you. After much research we found there weren't many certified organic lines that have a full range